

HEATHER HANSEN helps top corporate professionals speak clearly and confidently so they can make a greater impact as leaders and achieve more in the world.

Heather's primary areas of expertise are:

- English Pronunciation and Global Intelligibility
- Presentation Skills
- Global Workplace Communication
- Interpersonal Skills/Workplace Harmony
- Corporate language policies – Global English

Heather is a Clear Speech Specialist holding keynotes, seminars and workshops, as well as providing one-on-one consulting to help top global professionals communicate clearly and confidently in international business settings. Through highly interactive, research-based and company-specific programs, Heather translates theories and academic research into real, on-the-job action by engaging participants and having fun in the classroom.

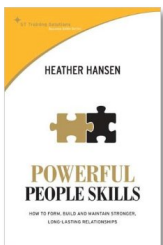

Originally from the United States, Heather lived in five countries before moving to Singapore in 2006. In February of 2014, she returned to Denmark (where she lived from 2002-2006). Her international experience, along with formal university studies in International Relations and Linguistics, has given her a high level of cross-cultural awareness and understanding. Always respectful, Heather builds trust quickly with her participants, to create fun and open learning environments where participants really thrive.

Heather is certified in the Compton PESL (Pronouncing English as a Second Language) Accent Modification Method. Through her work as a Speech Specialist she has helped hundreds of non-native English speakers enhance their clarity and confidence speaking English. Coupled with her experience in competitive public speaking since age 12, it is hard to find a more suitable choice to help your global leaders speak up and impact the world.

Heather authored the Speak Clearly 2-CD Audio Program and developed the 6-month, online Pronunciation Mastery Program (Levels 1 and 2). This is quite possibly the first online course to teach English pronunciation from an international perspective.

Heather has been featured numerous times in Singapore media with articles in The Straits Times, The Singapore Women's Weekly and Your Choice Magazine. She has been a guest twice on radio station 938LIVE's talk shows, The Living Room and A Slice of Life. She was also featured twice on 938LIVE's month-long Positive Business Minutes Series.

Heather is author of the book, Powerful People Skills: How to Form, Build and Maintain Stronger, Long-lasting Relationships, which is part of the STTS Success Skills Series published by Marshall Cavendish International. The book is now available in 6 countries and 2 languages.

She has contributed to three other books published by Marshall Cavendish: 88 Essential Secrets for Achieving Greater Success at Work, Success 365, and Great Expatations: Don't Chop My Passport and Other Stories.
